Bati Orient – Bati Orient continues to captivate with its exquisite range of decorative tiles and mosaics, drawing inspiration from diverse shapes, materials, and embellishments from around the globe. Known for sourcing trendy, high-quality designs, Bati Orient empowers creativity with its original and distinctive tile offerings. In 2024, adjustments to the Bati Orient price list reflect changes in global shipping and production costs. While most products have seen a slight price increase, there's good news: pricing on cement tiles remains unchanged, and select items like pebble stones have even seen price reductions. Explore the updated price list and discover how Bati Orient can bring worldly inspiration to your next project.

Cotto d'Este – We've made it easier to explore the Cotto d'Este collection by streamlining our price list to include only items currently stocked in the USA. The exception is the Wonderwall collection—an extraordinary line of ultra-thin, large-format decorative wall tiles. Wonderwall features 19 high-definition, textured designs that offer contemporary solutions for elevating interiors. These elegant tiles transform walls into architectural focal points, adding depth and character to spaces without disrupting harmony. With its captivating colors and graphic patterns, Wonderwall creates standout walls that define and enhance any room, even in the absence of structural changes. Discover how Wonderwall can make a statement in your next project.

Lungarno - The updated Lungarno pricelist includes adjustments to several product lines. Notably, the Carrollton series, a popular choice for its versatile subway-shaped tiles and seven neutral color options, now features reduced pricing on select items. There are also minor price increases on some products to reflect current market conditions. We invite you to review the updated pricelist to see how these changes may benefit your projects.
